

Vilnius University

Philosophy Institute

Logic and Philosophy: Historical and Contemporary Issues

May 27–28, 2022

Universiteto st. 9, Vilnius, Lithuania

Link: bit.ly/38aigDR

MAY 27

9:15–9:30 Opening Remarks

9:30–10:30 Nick Zangwill (University College London)– Logic, Inference and Reality

10:30–11:30 Valentin Goranko (Stockholm University) – Logic-based Strategic Reasoning in Social Context

11:30–12:00 Coffee Break

12:00–12:30 Antonio Freiles (University of Italian Switzerland) – A Truthmaker Semantics Approach to Ontological Dependence

12:30–13:00 Mindaugas Gilaitis (Vilnius University) – Epistemic Analyticity and the A priori

13:00–13:30 Karl Nygren (Stockholm University) – A Logical Account of Erotetic Ignorance

13:30–15:00 Lunch Break

15:00–16:00 Wolfgang Lenzen (University of Osnabrück) – Abelard and the Development of Connexive Logic

16:00–17:00 Hanoch Ben-Yami (Central European University) – The Quantified Argument Calculus and Buridan's Logic

17:00–17:30 Coffee Break

17:30–18:30 Jonas Dagys & Živilė Pabijutaitė (Vilnius University) – Buridan's Modal Syllogisms and First-order Logic

18:30–19:00 Ofri Oren (University of California) – Intuitionist Logic and Language in the Odyssey IX: Chopped μητις (mētis, craft) Μη τίς (mē tis, No one)

MAY 28

9:30–10:30 Gabriel Sandu (University of Helsinki) – Hintikka's Contribution to the Development of Modal Logic

10:30–11:30 Daniel Nolan (University of Notre Dame) – Counterpossibles, Consequence and Context

11:30–12:00 Coffee Break

12:00–12:30 Pranciškus Gricius (Vilnius University) – Toward a New Theory of Moderate Contingentism

12:30–13:00 Monika Morkūnaitė (Vilnius University) – Developing a Theism-Friendly Modal Metaphysics in the Context of A. Plantinga's Modal Ontological Argument

13:00–13:30 Ray Cheung (The Chinese University of Hong Kong) – A Logic of Logic: Computation and Modal Logic Through Possibility Quantification

13:30–15:00 Lunch Break

15:00–15:30 Elia Zardini (Complutense University of Madrid) – Paradox and Substructurality

15:30–16:00 Nancy Abigail Nuñez (Czech Academy of Science) – The Paradox of Inference and the Complexity of Knowledge by Deduction

16:00–16:30 Ludovica Conti (Università di Pavia) – Arbitrary Abstraction and Logicality

16:30–17:00 Miroslava Trajkovski (University of Belgrade) – Formalization of Hume's Principle and Impredicativity

17:00–17:30 Coffee Break

17:30–18:00 Fabian Pregal (University of Oxford) – Frege's Concept of Completeness

18:00–18:30 Lassi Saario (University of Helsinki) – Did Bolzano anticipate Tarski's account of Logical Consequence?

18:30–19:00 María Solano Conde (Autonomous University of Madrid) – The Role of Logic in the Contemporary Pursuit of Truth

19:00–19:15 Concluding Remarks