& Employability Skills in Schools

Project Objectives

The main goal of SUCCESS is to educate school counselors in all participating countries to transfer new knowledge and skills to school settings at a national and an EU level. It aims at creating an innovative training package for school counselors (a manual and hands-on activities, tools and practical exercises) based on Positive Psychology principles that will support students after they graduate from high schools.

Project Results

Exploring and Revising Current Needs and Conditions of School Counselors:

The aim was to explore the personal and professional needs of school/guidance counselors within each of the participating partner country. For this purpose, a comprehensive literature review, (consisting of data obtained from distinct national reviews of career and educational guidance policies with a special focus on School Counselors' training, functions, competencies and roles in providing guidance services within the secondary education system in each of the partner countries) was conducted. In addition, results of qualitative and quantitative studies of school counselor's needs were analyzed.
